SNT priority means safer Christmas for Haverhill

DEBRA FOX

FAMILIES are hoping for a safe Christmas with a policing priority dedicated to protecting people and property during the festive season.

At the Haverhill Safer Neighbourhood (SNT) meeting on Monday, residents voted to elect a "festive clamp down" as one of three new priorities for officers.

It will include tackling anti-social behaviour, carrying out high visibility patrols in the High Street to reassure the public and deter criminals, visiting supermarkets during the busy period, and dealing with revellers who have had too much alcohol or who become abusive.

Twenty people at the meeting, and watching a live stream online, voted for the suggested priority, which came from John Burns, Haverhill resident.

Cllr Roger André, mayor of Haverhill, said he was "surprised" it was voted in due to a lack of support in the room.

Seven people attending the meeting voted in its favour, while 13 people voted online.

Cllr André said: "I would think all that's contained in this priority would be things that the police are doing at this time of year anyway, but we do want to ensure that people do not overindulge and then drive."

He added: "There is always concern at Christmas because shops are a bit more crowded, and there's a possibility of shoplifting or pick pockets, but I don't think we have that problem in Haverhill."

The town does not seem to have specific problems around the festive period, he added.

LET IT SNOW: Children and parents gave their best Torvill and Dean performances at Haverhill's free ice rink on Saturday. The rink was open from 10am until 4pm with shoppers dumping their bags and taking to the ice. There was even fake snow to add to the atmosphere. ■ Turn to page 14 for more pictures.

Switching on Christmas!

DEBRA FOX

A SPLASH of New York glamour arrived in Haverhill for the annual Christmas lights switch on.

Britain's Got Talent diva Patsy May paid a visit to the town on Friday and flipped the switch on festive decorations in the market square.

She wowed the audience in a Winter Wonderland duet, with Centre Stage performer Kelly Mepham, and then performed her own version of Let It Go, from Disney's Frozen.

Patsy, who now lives in London but is from New York, delighted some of her younger fans with a dazzling costume change into her very own Princess Elsa gown.

She said: "It was super fun coming to this really enormous town. 'I hope I wowed the audience with my costume change - I'm good at taking my clothes off super fast.'"

Hundreds of people packed onto the market square to meet Patsy May - but were also treated to a surprise visit from 'Mavis'.

Speaking to the crowd, she said: "I have lived in Haverhill all my life and you can't find any town as beautiful as this."

Mavis told the crowd she came to the switch on to "help that blue girl off the telly" - but was disappointed she couldn't get a cake at Ellis's or Took's with her friend, Phyllis.

Rides and stalls lined Haverhill High Street from 5pm with a helter skelter, hook a bag and tombolas amongst the favourites.

REACH, Haverhill and Kedington Labour Group, Happy Faces Pre-school and St Nicholas Hospice Care also had stalls on the night.

A Christmas craft fair took place at Haverhill Arts Centre, and some late night shopping was on offer at some shops in the High Street and Queen Street until 8pm.

Colin Poole, town clerk, said: "The town is full of people having fun.

"There's music, there's laughter, there's noise and people are having a great time.

"It's great to see the market square used for what it should be used for; big get togethers."

The annual Grand Firework Display wowed crowds on recreation ground from 8pm, to round off the night.

Man, 39, is jailed after pet kill threat

A MAN has been jailed for breaching a restraining order sought by his former partner.

Tony Sherritt, 39, of Templars Court, Haverhill, visited the home of Suzanne Whitham and threatened to kill her dog.

He left the property with the pet and sent a text message to Miss Whitham on September 3 asking her to come to his home to retrieve it.

Hours later, he sent her a further message to say the dog was dead, Christopher Paxton, prosecuting, told Ipswich Crown Court.

It later emerged that the animal was unharmed.

A restraining order was made in July this year, which prohibited the 39-year-old from contacting Miss Whitham.

Sherritt gave himself up to police after turning up at Miss Whitham's property.

On Monday, he pleaded guilty to breaching a restraining order and was jailed for 10 months by Judge John Devaux.

He has also been banned for making contact with Miss Whitham or going within 100m of her home.

Richard Potts, mitigating, told the court that shortly before the offence Sherritt had been invited to his former partner's house to help with decorating work.

They had also visited Cambridge together.

Talented gymnast Harry, 8, forced to change clubs

DEBRA FOX

A TALENTED gymnast will have to train in a different county because his local club cannot give him enough hours.

Harry White, 8, has been training with Haverhill Gymnastics Club since he was just 3, but now his talent means he will have to travel an hour to Colchester three times a week.

Currently, the town's club can only offer him eight hours, the maximum available as it does not have its own base. At Colchester, Harry will train for at least 12 hours a week.

The club operates from Haverhill Leisure Centre on Mondays, Tuesdays, Fridays and Saturdays.

Dad Michael said: "It is quite a sad time within the household, because coaches become a part of the family over five years."

Harry is training for an elite national grade which, if he is successful, could see him training with the British boys and make a career out of the sport.

Kevin Woolcott, head coach and chairman at Haverhill Gymnastics Club, has made numerous appeals for the public's help in securing a centre.

Having a dedicated base would allow the club to operate full time,

Mr Woolcott has previously said, and provide additional hours for those hoping to progress.

The club is currently at full capacity and has hundreds of children on its waiting list.

A full-time base would allow more children to join.

Mum Gemma said the situation will be "stressful" for her family as there is no guarantee the new club will work out.

She said: "People don't realise how many hours he puts into it. It's not just a club for him. It's part of his life."

She added: "When he was about 3 he was climbing the door frames and hanging off them and I noticed he was quite strong for a young lad, so I brought him [to the club]."

THE CHRISTMAS STORY: Molly Johnson, Lexie Symonds and Mia Banerjee, above, and Cassius Christie, right.

Away in a manger, no crib for a bed

ANGELS, shepherds and even a Christmas donkey have been rehearsing their lines for a pre-school nativity play.

Children from Stepping Stones, which runs from Coupals Primary in Haverhill, are getting ready for their stage debut.

The nativity is being performed for parents tomorrow with both Cllr Roger André, town mayor, and Cllr Robert Everitt, mayor of St Edmundsbury invited to attend. Pupils are well and truly getting into the Christmas spirit with a range of festive activities for their last days of term.

Next week, the children will enjoy a Christmas lunch and host their own Christmas party with a visit from Santa Claus.

New priorities for town police

ILLEGAL parking and drug taking have once again topped Haverhill's policing priorities.

Twenty six people voted for alleged drug taking and anti-social behaviour, and inconsiderate and illegal parking as the top two Safer Neighbourhood Team (SNT) priorities for the next quarter.

The third priority, with 20 votes, was a "festive clamp-down" across town.

Cllr Roger André, town mayor, has welcomed the top two priorities.

He said: "[These priorities] met a large number of residents' requirements, so we have managed to get quite a lot into those two."

■ DEBRA FOX

Haverhill does not seem to have any specific problems around Christmas time, the mayor added, but there are always concerns about shoplifters, pick pockets and drink drivers.

Main areas highlighted with problems around drug dealing and anti-social behaviour are the recreation ground, Aeroplane Park, Parsonage Gardens, Moat Walk and Castle Hill.

Queen Street, Hollands Road, Hamlet Road and School Lane are some of the sites chosen for police to monitor illegal parking.

For the first time, a list of priorities was drawn up before Monday's meeting, with the public left to vote for their final three.

Others on the shortlist included arson attacks on wheellie bins around town, and security of houses and sheds in the winter months following a spate of break-ins.

The next meeting is taking place on March 9 at Haverhill Arts Centre from 7pm.

It will be streamed live via haverhillvote.co.uk, and priorities must be submitted beforehand.

Update on crime figures

Haverhill's policing commander has told the public he is pleased with where the crime figures currently sit.

From April 1 this year, there have been 1,150 reported crimes in the town, and there is a 39 per cent detection rate.

Inspector Peter Ferrie said: "Haverhill has the second highest detection rate, better than Newmarket, Sudbury and Stowmarket. We are just behind Bury St Edmunds."

Anti-social behaviour, vehicle crimes, criminal damage and arson offences have decreased, but shoplifting and drug offences are on the rise.

Inspector Ferrie added: "We are just below our average which I am happy with."

"We have got some real successes, but we have got work to do with some others."

Last quarter's priorities

OFFICERS from Haverhill's SNT team have spent the last three months tackling drug use and dealing on the Parkway Estate, anti-social behaviour in Strasbourg Square and anti-social behaviour with cars and mopeds.

SNT sergeant Matt Gilbert told the public that his team has carried out patrols to deal with drugs crimes.

During the last quarter there were six searches, four encounters and one arrest.

There were no real issues with Strasbourg Square, Sgt Gilbert said, with two known offenders given acceptable behaviour contracts.

Five moped drivers were issued with Section 59 notices, and speed checks were carried out across the town. Locations included Bumpstead Road, Hollands Road and Wrating Road.

Please sir, can we have some more?

I JUST wanted to thank you for introducing the new car parking scheme which will allow free car parking after 3pm from Monday to Saturday. Haverhill welcomes any idea that will promote our town centre, and gives us more than we currently have, but in all honesty this idea is a tad miserly. These few hours at the end of a cold winter's day won't be much of an encouragement to shoppers at all, and certainly won't bring in shoppers from the surrounding small towns and villages. Please don't be an old Scrooge Cllr Pugh, if you really want to support local trade and encourage people to shop locally during the festive period, give our town a chance and extend the scheme to include free parking all day Friday and Saturday, when the market is in town, and families do the bulk of their shopping, otherwise it's quite likely that the Ghost of Christmas Future will show our town centre to be devoid of any shops or shoppers next year. Have a Merry Christmas Cllr Pugh.

Slice of cake? We're lucky to get crumbs...

OUR slice of cake that Julian Flood refers to in the December 4th issue is more likely to have been a crumb so small that we knew nothing about it. In truth Haverhill is the forgotten town of Suffolk and always will be. Until the railway returns, any road funding of any significance will be nothing to write home about. Blinkered vision by the powers that be have left Haverhill the laughing stock of Suffolk. Don't get me wrong, Haverhill is a fine place to live, but only if you are able to drive and are in good health. When you start to get old and it's difficult to get about then the reality sets in. Travelling 40+ miles for a hospital round trip to get a chest x-ray for example. Out of date roads to Bury St Edmunds, Sudbury, Colchester; these roads belong in the 1950s not the 21st century and of course the A1307 - 'The road of death'. Idiots driving along the small stretches of dual carriageway that links Haverhill to Cambridge like they were at Silverstone is beyond belief. When there are fatal accidents like the one at Horseheath a few years ago, improvements were done. Those types of improvements should have happened 30 years ago.

In this rural backwater we are so slow in doing anything major to improve our infrastructure that I'm sure many of the big players in the country are so reluctant to come here.

In truth Dr Beching signed our death warrant all those years ago; we really are on the road to nowhere.

The 1968 Man Alive pictured a stark reality for Haverhill. The sequel to that done by Haverhill residents last summer was rubbish.

If we want to go forward we must act now, but we won't, we'll just keep plugging away with the same old nonsense in the belief that one day it will all be ok. I'm 60, it won't happen in my lifetime. I would say to anyone, if you can move go somewhere a town is living in the present not in the past. Haverhill Vision 2031 should be Haverhill 1966. Oh, I forgot we still had a link to the outside world then, the railway.

There was no need for these fireworks

I WOULD just like to thank the people of Haverhill for turning out on the Christmas light-up event, but one thing puzzles me – why do we need to inflict the fireworks on our animals – it's bad enough on fireworks night, let alone on a normal day of the week. Please can the town council have a rethink for a better way to have a Christmas night rather than the fireworks. Maybe someone from the council could clarify exactly how much the fireworks cost and how much money is made from the night to offset the cost? I'm no bah humbug or scrooge – I just don't like people wasting my council tax money.

Christmas poem

THAT star shining so bright up above
Brought news of his birth, and his wonderful love,
To all sinners his forgiveness he gave,
So that when death came, their souls would be saved
This precious child, the Son of God
Asks that we will follow him, to walk in his ways, and be free from sin
Precious is The Lord Our God
When in his steps, our feet have trod
This Holy Child, so good and kind
Shall reign forever in our hearts and mind.

'Early bird' delivery plans shot down by councillors

A SUPERMARKET'S plans to start deliveries at 5am have been slammed by councillors.

Eight councillors at a Development Control Committee meeting were "minded to refuse" an application from Haverhill's Tesco store, on Cangle Road, last week.

Councillors, meeting at St Edmundsbury Borough Council, voiced concerns for those living near the site – and also questioned why the current conditions on the store had to change.

Conditions drawn up prior to the store's construction state that deliveries can start at 7am between Monday and Saturday, and 8am on Sunday.

Officers had advised that temporary permission was granted for 12 months so that the impact on local people could be recorded.

During public speaking Cllr Tony Brown, who represents Haverhill East, said: "The original restriction on deliveries when Tesco was first planned was given for a very good reason – it was to help preserve nearby residents' quality of life and sleep patterns.

"What has changed to warrant a need to interfere."

The supermarket had argued that the change in delivery time would make a marginal profit and allow it to further serve local residents and provide fresh produce in home deliveries.

Cllr Maureen Byrne, committee member, said: "The argument in favour is that the change will contribute towards a competitive town centre and that taking deliveries earlier than currently will strengthen the economy of Haverhill.

"There is no financial evidence to illustrate the economic argument, merely the assertion that earlier deliveries are good for the economy."

The councillor, who is also deputy mayor of Haverhill, argued that officers and councillors alike had put hard work into the original conditions surrounding the store, which opened in 2009.

Concerns were also raised about the accuracy of a noise report in relation to the change – but a planning officer told councillors that this was an estimation only.

This was the reason for temporary permission, she added.

The application was recommended for approval by planning officers – and now they have been tasked with investigating the implications of a refusal by the council.

Chance to send Santa wishlist by express post

AN EXPRESS post box to the North Pole has been set up in Kedington.

Children are being encouraged to visit the special box to send their letters special delivery to Santa Claus.

The box is located at the village's new Rose Brook development.

Sandra Harbord, sales director for Bloor Homes Eastern, said: "This time of year is always exciting, but also incredibly hectic for parents, as preparations get under way for Christmas, and those gift wish lists land in our laps.

"To get everyone in the festive mood, we're delighted to welcome everyone down to our sales office where children can put any last minute present requests in our Santa's post box.

"We're encouraging the little ones to get those all-important letters to Santa drafted in time for the big day."

All letters posted before Sunday will get a special reply from Santa himself – just before his busiest weeks of the year begin.

The team at the Rose Brook development site are available to speak to now about securing a home early.

Sandra added: "Although Christmas is typically a quieter period for home movers, there are a number of great incentives to take advantage of here at Rose Brook in the run up to Christmas."

Potential buyers are being encouraged to visit the marketing suite on Stourmead Close, Kedington.

Recognition for CXG at awards ceremony

A HAVERHILL business has scooped another prestigious award.

CXG, which operates on the town's High Street, has been voted as Letting Agent of the Year for 2014/15.

The company took the prize at the Landlord and Letting Awards, held at the end of November.

Trophies were presented to the winners by Tommy Walsh at the ceremony in Warwickshire.

Robin Pilley, co-owner of CXG, said: "The competition was really tough, so this accolade really is testament to the hard work and commitment of everyone at CXG. Winning has really spurred us on and we will continue to build on our expertise, deliver high quality levels of service across the private rented sector and, hopefully, be recognised for our achievements again next year."

Could you help Lily and Willow?

DEBRA FOX

A FAMILY is appealing for help in raising money for a specialist buggy for their daughters.

Lily and Willow Bamber, of Haverhill, both suffer from a progressive neurological condition.

Older sister Lily, who is five, has lost the ability to walk unaided and Willow, aged 17 months, has just begun to take her first steps.

Currently, the girls share an ordinary double buggy – but Lily, who started at Clements Community Primary School last year, will soon be too big for it.

Mum Michelle said: "Without a specialist buggy we soon won't be able to get out of the house at all.

"Lily is going through a really good period at the moment so she is able to walk short distances with help but that can change daily.

"As Willow has been diagnosed with the same condition we need to look ahead and get a piece of equipment that will accommodate both girls over the next couple of years as they grow."

The family has turned to the Newlife Foundation for help in securing funding for the buggy, which will cost £599.

Newlife provides specialist equipment for babies, children and young people in the UK. It also offers an emergency equipment loan service.

Sheila Brown OBE, chief executive of the charity, said: "Demand on our practical support services is growing.

"We awarded 33 per cent more Equipment Grants around the UK in 2013/14 than the previous year; as a result, we are increasingly calling on local heroes to help fund vital specialist equipment for children in their own areas."

Last year, the charity invested more than £2,000 in equipment grants to improve the lives of disabled youngsters.

County inspired by London's Olympic legacy

A STRATEGY to encourage disability sport and physical activity across Suffolk has been launched.

Unveiled by Cllr Alan Murray, cabinet member for health and adult care, the strategy aims to change perceptions, increase participation and empower disabled people to become active. It is aimed at all organisations with an interest in disability sport across the country.

Cllr Murray said: "The London 2012 Olympic and Paralympic Games was a major milestone in our sporting history and sparked a lot of interest from disabled people looking for opportunities to take part in sport and physical activity.

"Never the less the harsh reality is that four out of five disabled people in England still do not meet recommended activity levels."

Concerns for safety at new site

COUNCILLORS are calling for an official crossing outside a proposed development.

DEBRA FOX

More than 40 homes, with associated parking and access, have been proposed for a site on the junction of Hall Road and Mill Road, Kedington.

At a meeting last week committee members from St Edmundsbury Borough Council's Development Control expressed their worries about the safety of children from the nearby primary school.

Kedington Primary Academy, which is at capacity, is already surrounded by parking problems at drop-off and pick-up times.

Adding up to 40 new homes would exacerbate the issue, some argued, as there was no safe place for children from the new homes to cross.

Cllr Nathan Loader, of Kedington Parish Council, said: "New housing which is not close to new jobs is likely to have a significant impact on the environment."

"New additions may secure school places at the expense of existing village children, forcing them to school elsewhere.

"This will impact on children and families who are already settled."

An officer from Suffolk County Council highways told the meeting that some road measures, such as speed bumps, were unsuitable in this case.

Other suggestions from councillors included creating a new drop off point, or using a walking bus scheme.

The meeting was also told that the school may be forced to expand – but this could be paid for with money from this, and another, development in the village.

Fourteen councillors voted in favour of the application being deferred.

Planning and highways officers will make further investigations with the applicant on whether or not a zebra crossing could be placed on the road.

HO HO HO: The Giving Tree at Haverhill Leisure Centre.

Give an extra gift this Christmas

SHOPPERS are being encouraged to add one extra gift to their list this year.

Haverhill Leisure Centre launched its annual Giving Tree Appeal last week to collect Christmas gifts for children.

Visitors to the centre are being invited to take a tag, which will show the age range they should buy for.

They then have until December 17 to return the gift to go on Santa's sleigh.

James Purkiss, centre manager, said:

"Many people very thoughtfully give to charities at this time of year but it is often those who are spending time in hospital or are very ill who get forgotten."

Gifts will be distributed to Addenbrooke's children's ward and St Nicholas Hospice Care.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Praise for pre-school

A VILLAGE pre-school has been praised for its relationship with children, parents and the local community.

Thurlow, Bradley and District Pre-school was rated "good" by Ofsted following an inspection in September.

Highlights from the report included staff having high expectations of children, meeting a child's individual needs, and implementing good teaching strategies.

During the inspection members of the committee, staff, children and parents were spoken to. Children were also observed throughout the school day.

To view the full report visit ofsted.gov.uk and go to thurlowpreschool.co.uk for more information about the school.

Reminder for patients

A TELEPHONE system to remind patients about upcoming appointments has been launched at West Suffolk Hospital's surgery department.

The automated reminder will call patients around a week before an appointment to remind them of the date, time and location.

They will then be given the choice to confirm or rearrange.

An additional text message reminder will be sent two days before any appointment.

Steven Colman, manager of the project, said: "The reminder system has proved a huge success since it was introduced in the outpatients department earlier this year, and has seen hundreds of extra patients attend each month as a result."

Drink drive warning for young motorists

IN THE run up to Christmas, younger drivers are being warned not to drink drive.

Suffolk Roadsafe Partnership has launched a campaign across the county with more than 700 licensed premises.

Posters displayed in the participating places will alert people to the consequences of driving under the influence, and what will happen if they are caught.

With the slogan, "drink drive and faces the criminal consequences", the poster shows a montage of four faces.

These represent the people someone will come into contact with, if caught drunk behind the wheel.

The faces include the officer who arrests a drink driver, the officer who takes a drink driver to a cell, the officer taking fingerprints and the magistrate who will pass a sentence in court.

Cllr Graham Newman, chair of the Roadsafe Partnership, said: "Through a commitment to catching drink-drivers, and through educational campaigns, we will continue to reinforce the messages that drink driving is completely unacceptable."

Drivers are also being warned about driving the morning after a drink.

New Radio Haha is dedicated to comedy

LIVE STREAM: Shaina Scotcher, station manager.

A NEW radio station is aiming to brighten winter mornings.

Radio Haha, which operates from Haverhill, is a new channel dedicated solely to comedy – and it's available to listen 24/7.

Managed by Shaina Scotcher, the station only started in October, but already big plans are in place for next year, and the future.

Shaina, 21, said: "We have had a lot of positive feedback and a few people are really interested in what we do."

The station is about to submit an app to Apple for release. It's expected to hit iTunes before Christmas.

Currently, Radio Haha plays comedy from popular acts such as Monty Python, to the most up and coming stars.

The next step is to attract new talent to pre-record slots for the show.

DEBRA FOX

Shaina, of Studlands, Newmarket, graduated from Lincoln University in September with a degree in media production.

After moving back to West Suffolk, she started looking for jobs.

The 21-year-old added: "There are programmes on stations that do comedy but there is not a station based on comedy content."

"It is quite niche."

The station hopes to start recruiting new comedians in the new year.

Radio Haha operates from the Haverhill's Station Road.

Benefit claim was illegal, court is told

A FATHER claimed £80,000 in benefits illegally, a court has been told.

It is alleged that Henry Stockings, 56, failed to notify council officials that he was living at a Haverhill address with his partner.

Ipswich Crown Court was told that the 56-year-old signed forms to say he lived at the home in Mallow Walk with just his two children.

He pleaded not guilty to failing to notify St Edmundsbury Borough Council of a change in circumstances that would affect his entitlement to council tax benefit between April 2003 and April 2012.

He is accused of obtaining £34,800.

He has also denied two offences of failing to make a similar notification to the Department of Work and Pensions between March 2002 and January 2009 and again between July 2010 and July 2011.

Laura Kenyon, prosecuting, said that Stockings had been claiming income support, worth £45,200 from the DWP between those dates.

Jurors were given details of documents which support allegations that

COURT REPORTER

Stockings signed a joint tenancy agreement with his partner, the prosecution said.

Miss Kenyon also said that his partner had given the address to her employers, was listed there on the electoral register, received post from her bank and had paid for a Sky TV subscription at the address.

When interviewed, Stockings told investigators that the electoral register entry had been made in error, and that he and his partner's names were on the tenancy agreement, but she had left 15 years ago.

He also said his partner was an "infrequent" visitor and both of them needed to be present to change the tenancy.

Stockings also said that he had refunded the Sky subscription to his partner rather than change the name on the agreement, and that he allowed her to use Mallow Walk as a postal address.

The trial continues.

Fe fi fo fum! Fairy Fortuna meets winners

BUDDING gardeners who watched their beanstalks grow big and tall have taken home a prize.

Jack and the Beanstalk is coming to Haverhill Arts Centre next week – and two lucky children will be front and centre with their families after their beanstalks became the best in the business. Annabel Mackenzie, 5, and Maea Robson, 6, met the beautiful Fairy Fortuna this week to collect their pantomime tickets.

A competition between Haverhill Arts Centre and Sturmer Nurseries launched in October. Children were encouraged to collect a bean and grow it at home in a jam jar. The children with the tallest stalks by the beginning of December would win a family ticket, for two adults and two children, each.

The pantomime is from December 19 until 28.

Square up for £35k revamp

A RUNDOWN square on one of Haverhill's estates could be transformed with up to £35,000.

Strasbourg Square, on the Chalkstone Estate, is due to have thousands spent on a much-needed revamp.

Campanigned for by the late Cllr Gordon Cox, who died in October, the money is earmarked for new steps to the play area, cycle stands and new planters.

The square will also be re-paved with benched seating provided.

A local resident has carried out a survey with the area's shopkeepers and business owners, as well as other local people living near the site.

Questions asked of St Edmundsbury Borough

DEBRA FOX

Council, which is paying for the project, include what can be done about the derelict Vixen pub and the future of the Chalkstone Community Centre.

The report said: "[The community centre] falls outside of the scope of this project."

The Vixen is also owned by a private company, R Gwinnell & Sons funeral directors, preventing the council from making changes to it.

Inspector Peter Ferrie, policing commander for Haverhill, and Sergeant Matt Gilbert, of the Safer

Neighbourhood Team, have also shared their views in the survey.

Inspector Ferrie said: "From my point of view I would be looking to reduce or design out anything that would cause or encourage ASB."

New raised beds and the new cycle stands will, hopefully, deter young people from skateboarding or playing football in the main square area, the council has said.

Papers on the project will go before the Haverhill Area Working Party (HAWP) later today.

Pending their support, a formal consultation will then take place. Work should start early next year.

Suffolk police search for volunteers

MORE than 60 volunteers are currently giving their free time to Suffolk police – but more people are welcome to join.

Jess Martyn, 17, is one of the force's volunteers – and the youngest.

The teenager supports Community Speed Watch by recording data from survey sheets and has previously assisted with licensing and mental health work.

She said: "You get to meet so many different people with interesting stories and I'm really made to feel like one of the team, working alongside police officers and staff alike to help make a difference to the safety of Suffolk.

"I couldn't recommend it enough."

Volunteers aged 18 or over can join the drug testing team or assist with CCTV monitoring.

Tim Passmore, the county's police and crime commissioner, has hailed volunteers as "an integral part" of the constabulary family.

He added: "Suffolk has an excellent track record for looking after each other and that's what is so special about our county – its sense of community and place and when people are in need we find ways of helping each other."

Aladdin

THIS year is a big year for the Cambridge Arts Theatre.

Not only have they somehow got to invent a way for a genie to shoot out of a lamp live on stage in their adaptation of Aladdin, they're also celebrating 10 years of having actor and writer Matt Crosby on board.

Crosby – who has co-written the panto with Al Morley – returns as washerwoman Dame Widow Twankey, to mark a decade's worth of donning pantaloons and larking about over

We're not going to indulge in all that "HE'S BEHIND YOU!" malarkey. Oh no we're not! Sorry. But seriously, panto season is upon us, the dames and the bumbling horses are out in force. Here's our guide to the best.

Christmas.

He'll be joined by Lowri Walton and Sam Hoye as her sons, the brave if reckless Aladdin and loveable fool Wishee Washee, as well as Corrie bad-boy Stephen Beckett as the detestable Abanazer who lures Aladdin away on a quest to find a miraculous gold lamp.

Richard Earl also features as the Emperor of Peking, alongside Philippa Stefani, Luran Rae and Cavin Cornwall, plus a horde of professional dancers and budding stars in the form of local children.

Around the World in 80 Days

CAMBRIDGE Junction always goes slightly off piste with its choice of panto.

Last year it was the, erm, classic Christmas fairy tale Thumbelina's Great Big Adventure, and this year they're giving Jules Verne's rollicking Around the World in 80 Days a festive spin.

Produced by New International Encounter (NIE) – returning after the success of the Hansel and Gretel production in 2011 – and commissioned by the Junction, it concerns a certain Phileas Fogg, his faithful servant

Passepartout, a pocket watch, a small sack of money and a wager to race round the globe in 80 days, making it back in time for Christmas.

Aimed at curious over-6s with a passion for travel, it takes six actors and live music and turns it all into a "big, fun, knockabout family Christmas show".

Panto round-up special

Jack and the Beanstalk

FEE-FI-FO-FUM! Silly Jack, the Dame's son, is madly in love with Jill and intent on getting rid of every giant in Haverhill, as well as the slimy villain Fleshcreep. There's help along the way from Fairy Fortuna and Daisy the Cow, but how is Jack going to do it?! Straight from roles in Corrie and Emmerdale will be actress Amy Forrest, joined by West End favourite Mitchell Armstrong and Really Wild Show host Howie Watkins, who will be donning bloomers and blusher to reprise his role as the madcap Dame Sarah Trott. ■ Haverhill Arts Centre, December 19 – 20. Call (01440) 714140.

The Adventures of Pinocchio

WE'RE hoping the terrifying donkey scene from the Disney film has been left out.

Fortunately, it appears this version of Pinocchio has been given a modern twist with a character list that reads like this: Whinnie the horse, Frankie the flamboyant housekeeper, a rather clumsy Blue Fairy, Barbie and Ken, the hapless Gepetto, and Jimmy da Cricket. There'll be songs, dancing and silliness as the long-nosed Pinocchio does his very best to scupper the plans of the evil Magnifico. PS This might be on at the ADC, but it isn't a Footlights creation – don't get confused/disappointed!

■ The ADC, December 19-20 at 7.45pm. Call (01223) 300085.

Little Red Riding Hood

AHEAD of Newmarket's Winter Wonderland, the Leisure Centre is set to be transformed into a Magic Wood on a one-off date this December.

LITTLE RED RIDING HOOD: At Newmarket Leisure Centre

Join Little Red Riding Hood and her friends (and, er, the not so friendly Big Bad Wolf!) as they travel to Grandma's house and see she's had a bit of a wolf-like makeover.

Luckily, Posh Bert and comic dame Mrs Hood are on hand to entertain the audience with comedy and songs – and encourage the audience to warn Little Red not to enter the woods alone!

A team of three make up this five-character performance, in the first panto held at Newmarket Leisure Centre.

■ Newmarket Leisure Centre, December 20 at

4pm. Call (01638) 782500.

Aladdin

PRINCESSES, genies and magic lamps will be out in force in Newmarket as peasant Aladdin tries to get the girl – who just so happens to be a Princess called Jasmine.

While Aladdin paints a sad picture of his poor life at his mum Window Twankey's laundrette, she and Wishee Washee are on hand to keep him on the straight and narrow. Until powerful wizard Abanazar turns up, that is, tricking Aladdin into retrieving a magic lamp and releasing three wishes. Watch as Wishee Washee wreaks havoc in the laundry room and Aladdin tries to win the hand of Princess Jasmine, all with some lively musical numbers and – hopefully – roars of laughter.

■ Kings Theatre, Newmarket, January 10 to 17 at various times. Call (01638) 663337.

Aladdin

ANIMATED Mr Bean takes on a new role in Soham as a panto genie this December, travelling to the Kingdom of No Pekind where Aladdin is again toiling away in his mother's laundrette.

While Princess Jasmine swans around as royalty of the Kingdom, Aladdin spends his days as the lowest of the low – until Abanazar appears promising him all the treasures in the universe – but only if Aladdin can retrieve a magic lamp...

Dancers from the Newmarket School of Dance alongside live musicians will be on hand to entertain the crowd, while pompous Pc Pong, played by Corrie star Bruce Jones, and Widow Twankey lead Aladdin in the right direction.

■ The Brook, Soham, December 26-30 at various times. Call 0843 20 80 500.

Cinderella

EXPECT your classic Cinderella tale – all glass slippers, transforming pumpkins, spiteful ugly step-sisters and a friendly fairy godmother – except all doused in slapstick.

Amped up with live music and tons of enthusiasm, there'll be panto babes from the local community for you to coo over too.

■ The Maltings, Ely, December 22 – January 11 at various times. Call (01638) 781037.

Decorations from outside

YOU may be tempted by expensive, fancy table decorations and wreaths in the shops, but, if you look in your garden, you'll find some brilliant indoor adornments for free.

All you need for an effective table decoration, for instance, is a few uniform-sized small glass holders into which a single cone can be placed, topped with a flower such as an orchid, as demonstrated by Judith Blacklock, principal of The Judith Blacklock Flower School, who has taught celebrities including Kirstie Allsopp, Gordon Ramsay and Keeley Hawes.

"It's such a wonderful time because gardens and hedgerows are full of wonderful things you can use at this time of year, including bare stems, fir cones and berries. Just use your eyes and if you see something exciting, you can make something wonderful with it," says Judith.

Garden foliage can form the base of a cornucopia of decorations. Take clippings from evergreens including conifers, box, holly and ivy, to make a base for wreaths and swags to which

by Hannah Stephenson

you can add berries, fruits, baubles and bows.

Common plants which are ideal for indoor decorations include Skimmia japonica, which has glossy red berries and leaves which are much easier to handle than holly because they don't have the accompanying spikes, Judith says.

"Variegated holly is another great choice because of the wonderful variegated foliage, while berried ivy, Hedera helix 'Arborescens' produces black fruits which are at their best at Christmas.

"Fruiting ivy can be found in virtually every garden hedgerow and placed in a vase with flowers like anemones threaded through," she explains. "Spray the leaves with gold for a really festive effect."

Add skimmia and bay from your garden to traditional wreaths. If you want to add bits of dried fruit, cinnamon sticks, berries or baubles, make sure you have plenty of them because, if you only have a few, they are much harder to place.

Judith says: "Go natural – collect, use and spray leaves, berries, seed heads and cones. The best way to spray is by placing your finds in a small box. Spray once, close and rattle the box, then open and spray again. Smooth textured plant material takes spray much more effectively than those with a rough texture such as teasels."

I personally always buy a real Christmas tree because the clippings go some way to creating an impressive wreath or table decorations.

Even if you have an artificial tree, you can clip a few branches of your own conifer or pine to make it look real, Judith notes.

"Place them at intervals on the fake tree's branches, pushing the stem ends to the trunk. You'll find it hard to tell the difference. You can also use Christmas tree off-cuts or conifer branches on your mantelpiece, window ledge or for a long-lasting centrepiece. Cut branches into short pieces and insert in foam, add a few roses or gerbera to complete."

Judith has even developed a design featuring a brussels sprout base topped with skimmia berries and anemones. Just cut a piece of foam (keep it dry) into a vertical column that is sufficiently wide and tall to hold a container.

Press the container firmly into the foam to mould the shape and depth of it and then remove the container and with a knife cut out the piece of foam so that your container will fit. The rim of the container should rise just above the foam.

Cut some cocktail sticks in two. Trim the spouts so that they have a smooth base and insert a stick into the base of each sprout, positioning them in the foam. Repeat until the foam is covered. Pour water into the inner container and evenly arrange your foliage, berries and flowers.

Bringing a little of your garden inside can really get you into the Christmas spirit.

Your Guide to Moving Home

Moving home can be a complicated business and in the hectic run up to the big day it is all too easy to forget something vital. The team offers their readers this handy checklist to help avoid any major pitfalls. We suggest you tick them off as you go....

1 4-2 WEEKS TO GO:

- ☐ Packing – start packing and sorting through your belongings. Now is a good time to de-clutter and pack items rarely used. Make sure you have plenty of sturdy boxes, bubble wrap and sticky tape.
- ☐ Removal companies – get estimates from removal companies, checking that comprehensive insurance cover is available against damage or loss. Is there a packing and unpacking service? Confirm the date of your move with the firm you have chosen.
- ☐ Insurance – check on your home contents insurance policies to ensure that you are covered for the move, and covered at your new address.
- ☐ Utilities – make arrangements for your gas and electricity meters (plus water meters where relevant) to be read and all your appliances to be disconnected on the day of your move. Arrange to take over gas and electricity at your new address, and make sure that all appliances will be properly fitted, plumbed or connected.
- ☐ Telecommunications – Notify your telephone and broadband provider and ask them to make the necessary arrangements for a final account at your present address, and for taking over or installing telephone and broadband facilities at your new home.
- ☐ Post – Look into re-directing your post for a few months to make sure you receive all relevant correspondence.
- ☐ Children – Look into the possibility of your children, especially young children, staying with family or friends on the day of the move.
- ☐ Pets – Make arrangements for any pets to be booked into a cattery or kennels if required. Having your pets microchipped is a good idea and if already microchipped, have the address changed to your new one. Your vet can advise on this.

Change of address – tell companies and organisations that you are moving!

Notify:

- ☐ Employer
- ☐ Inland revenue
- ☐ Local council
- ☐ Banks or Building Societies
- ☐ Credit companies, store cards & other accounts
- ☐ Gas, Electricity and water boards
- ☐ Insurance companies
- ☐ Land / mobile phones
- ☐ Internet and cable / satellite TV providers
- ☐ Doctor, Dentist and Opticians
- ☐ DVLA
- ☐ Veterinary surgery
- ☐ TV Licensing

3 1 WEEK TO GO:

- ☐ Delivery address – change delivery address of your Cambridge News, milk, groceries and fuel to your new address as appropriate.
- ☐ Laundry – do any last minute laundry that you can – have you arranged for a plumber to disconnect your washing machine correctly?

- ☐ Kitchen cupboards – go through your kitchen cupboards and throw out anything not in date. Also check that all jars and bottles are correctly sealed before packing.

- ☐ Fridges / Freezers – empty and clean out in preparation for moving. If you are moving a freezer and its contents, turn it up to maximum for a couple of days before you move.

- ☐ Valuables / documents – put these in safe place for moving day

4 2-1 DAYS TO GO:

- ☐ Packing – pack a bag for overnight essentials and toiletries and finish all remaining packing into boxes. Remember to label which room each box is destined for.

- ☐ Snack box – pack a box for the kitchen to include essentials like tea, coffee and sugar, as well as the kettle and mugs! Also include other snacks as necessary.

- ☐ Dismantle and disconnect – take down curtains, fixtures and fittings and disconnect white goods ready for transport.

- ☐ Outdoor items – make sure that these are stacked together and ready to be moved.

- ☐ Mobile – place your mobile on charge the night before moving and ensure that all relevant people have your number.

5 ON MOVING DAY:

AT YOUR OLD ADDRESS:

- ☐ Strip beds and pack bedding and nightclothes.
- ☐ Finish packing toiletries box.
- ☐ Direct removal firm personnel or friends helping you move as to what needs to be done.
- ☐ Turn off electric appliances.
- ☐ Disconnect cooker.
- ☐ Turn off boiler / central heating.
- ☐ Turn off water.
- ☐ Read gas meter.
- ☐ Read electricity meter.
- ☐ Secure all windows.
- ☐ Lock all doors.
- ☐ Make final checks and leave key as arranged with new owners.

AT YOUR NEW HOME:

- ☐ Open up & have a look around the new house.
- ☐ Locate fuse box, gas and electric meter and stop cock for reference.
- ☐ Take readings on gas, electric and water meters as appropriate.
- ☐ Organise the direction of boxes to appropriate rooms.
- ☐ Check the van after all is unloaded.
- ☐ Make the beds up for the evening.
- ☐ Sit down and relax – unpack the other boxes the next day.

Top marks at the Shaftesbury

THE Stephen Perse Foundation, advised by Savills, has acquired The Shaftesbury Building on Shaftesbury Road in Cambridge. The top independent day school has taken a new 15-year lease on the property, which totals 5,220 sq ft (485 sq m) and comprises a period office building, recently refurbished and extended, and a mix of open plan and individual offices and meeting rooms. William Clarke, associate director of business space at Savills Cambridge (above), commented: "The Stephen Perse Foundation was looking for an additional facility to grow its sixth form division, part of which is already based on Shaftesbury Road. The location and style of The Shaftesbury Building suited its needs well, and we are hopeful that this will be another step in the foundation's growth and commitment to Cambridge." Dodson Jones advised the owner of The Shaftesbury Building.

Vauxhall's all-new Viva is set for launch in new year

THE Viva is dead, but long live the Viva, says Vauxhall as it unveils a brand new affordable small car – albeit without prices.

The Luton-based company is resurrecting the Viva name, last seen on cars made between 1963 and 1979, for a new supermini based around 'durability' and 'practicality'.

It sits between the city car and supermini segments in size, at around 2cm longer than the Hyundai i10 and 18cm longer than a Volkswagen Up.

However, its real selling point is likely to be price. Vauxhall has developed it to fend off the likes of the ultra-affordable Dacia Sandero, as well as strong opposition from Kia and Hyundai – although since the Viva project was signed off, the Koreans have crept a little upmarket.

Vauxhall has chosen not to reveal prices at this time, much to the frustration of driving schools everywhere.

Vauxhall has not yet said how much the new Viva will cost. Agila prices start at £8,695 and there have been reports that its replacement could start at around £7,500.

Features of the new Viva include heated seats and a heated steering wheel. After first appearing in the ADAM ROCKS AIR and subsequently the New Corsa, VIVA is the latest Vauxhall to feature its new 1.0-litre three-cylinder ECOTEC engine. Specially-developed for VIVA, this 75PS powertrain is smooth, punchy and efficient, and is mated to a slick five-speed transmission.

Like its stablemates ADAM and Corsa, Viva is fully-connected thanks to the IntelliLink infotainment system, which allows seamless integration of Apple iOS and Android devices.

It's also equipped with ESP featuring traction control, ABS with Electronic Brake-Force Distribution and Hill Start Assist, which prevents the car from rolling back when starting on a slope. Further safety options can be selected including Lane Departure Warning.

"On sale next year at an extremely attractive price point, Viva joins new Corsa and Adam in a compelling small car portfolio, giving Vauxhall an unrivalled position in the small car market," said Tim Tozer, Vauxhall's chairman and managing director.

THE 2015 HONDA TYPE-R: £3k deposit

Books open for Type-R

JAPANESE car maker Honda has announced that it's finally opening the order books for its eagerly awaited new hot hatch.

Launching next year, the firm's Civic Type-R has been developed and engineered for European drivers. The car will be built at Honda's state-of-the-art plant in Swindon.

Prospective buyers will need a £3,000 deposit to secure their order.

The all-new hot hatch is being touted as the most extreme and high-performing Type-R in the 22-year history of the performance sub brand, signalling the start of a new performance era for the company.

This follows news that, due to exceptional demand, Honda has closed the pre-order bank for the much-awaited NSX supercar.

CONCERN: The Mercedes-Benz R-Class

Cars list shows all suspension issues

A THIRD of all cars on the UK's roads need repairs to their suspension every year, and the most likely to suffer suspension damage are Audi and Mercedes.

The Audi RS6 and Mercedes R-Class came out worst in a survey of suspension damage, followed by the Fiat Multipla, Jaguar XK and Bentley Continental GT. Other cars that fared badly included the Mazda 5, Mercedes CL, Chrysler 300C, Jaguar XJ and Hyundai Santa Fe. These cars are up to 30 times more likely to need suspension work than the least prone vehicles – among these cars least susceptible to suspension damage are the Citroen C1 and Honda S2000.

The cause of damage to these cars' suspension is attributed to the UK's heavily potholed roads and a proliferation of speed humps in urban areas. It has led to a third of all cars in the UK requiring remedial work to their suspension every year with an average cost of £247 for repair work.

Warranty Direct managing director, David Gerrans, said: "It is almost unbelievable how much variation there is from one model to another when it comes to suspension damage. Any vehicle driven on damaged, poor surfaces regularly or used for commuting on routes littered with speed bumps will eventually come to grief. London is particularly bad for the latter."

"The roads are as bad as ever but some cars are affected terribly, with components like bushes, track rod ends, drop links, springs and dampers all susceptible."

VW's Golf R wins Hot Hatch of Year award

THE Volkswagen Golf R, the most powerful Golf on sale, has won a prestigious Top Gear magazine award, Hot Hatch of the Year 2014.

At the heart of the Golf R is 2.0-litre 300 PS TSI, which is 30PS more powerful and up to 18 more fuel efficient than the previous model. This power is transferred to the road via the latest version of Volkswagen's 4MOTION all-wheel drive system.

Commenting on the award, Ollie Marriage, motoring editor of Top Gear magazine stated: "Volkswagen has taken the already excellent GTI and left no stone unturned in its pursuit of improvement."

The Golf R can reach 62mph from a standing start in 5.1 seconds when mated to a manual gearbox. A DSG dual clutch gearbox is available as an option and enables the R to complete the sprint in just 4.9 seconds. The Golf R has an electronically limited top speed of 155mph.

Prices start from £30,150 for the three-door manual model, and the Golf R is also remarkably efficient for a car with these performance credentials. The R emits 165g/km thanks to the Stop-Start and battery regeneration systems, and together with the optional six-speed dual-clutch gearbox (DSG) it has a combined average of 40.9mpg.

Marriage added: "It is the car that can do everything – 40mpg cruiser, upmarket business chariot, winter weapon... genuine thrill provider – Congratulations Volkswagen – the result of your efforts is the best hot hatch on sale today."

Driverless cars all set to be trialled across the UK

DRIVERS' hopes that the current freeze on fuel duty is set to last appear to have been dashed this week when Chancellor George Osborne confirmed that the already-announced freeze for April 2015 would go ahead – but in many ways the key news for the transport sector from the Chancellor's Autumn Statement was that formal trials for driverless cars are due to take place across the land.

AA president Edmund King welcomed the confirmed April 2015 freeze but said the OBR report appeared to confirm the view of 84 per cent of AA members in a recent poll who said they were concerned that motoring taxes would increase after next May's general election.

The OBR report said: "Fuel duty revenues in each year between 2011-12 and 2015-16 are below their 2010-11 level, thanks in part to the reduction in the duty rate in April 2011 and subsequent duty freezes."

"The next duty rate rise, planned for September 2015, means that receipts are expected to increase by 0.3 per cent in 2015-16. From April 2016 onwards duty rate rises are assumed to be in line with RPI inflation, leading to receipts growth of 2.5 per cent on average between 2016-17 and 2019-20."

IT'S OFFICIAL: Driverless cars are the future

Mr King said: "Today's re-confirmation of a £15 billion investment in UK roads and the continuing fuel duty freeze puts drivers on a 'highway to hope' after some hellish years of high fuel prices, potholed roads and only patchy investment."

"But our members were right to be sceptical about future taxes."

Quentin Willson, of the FairFuelUK Campaign, said: "We welcome the continual freeze in fuel duty but the Chancellor's tax take is now approaching 70 per cent. He could have done more." It was also announced in the Autumn Statement that the Government would press ahead with plans to introduce signs on motorways which display the price of fuel at service stations, to help promote competition and lower fuel prices.

The Department for Transport will begin work early next year on trialling a new fuel-comparison sign at five service stations on the M5 between Bristol and Exeter, with a view to introducing the signs by the end of 2015.

RAC Foundation director Professor Stephen Glaister said: "The Chancellor is pushing for more transparency in the pricing of airline tickets, so now he should also back our call for pump receipts to show how much of the price of petrol and diesel is tax. Currently well over 60 per cent goes to the Exchequer in the form of fuel duty and VAT."

On the fuel-price signs on motorways, the Institute of Advanced Motorists said: "We greatly welcome this move. At last it will give motorway users the chance to compare prices and not feel 'held to ransom' at hefty premium prices charged on these routes."

The Autumn Statement revealed that Greenwich in south east London, Coventry in the West Midlands, Milton Keynes in Buckinghamshire and Bristol had been chosen to run formal trials to see how driverless cars could be integrated into everyday life across the country.

The trials will last between 18 and 36 months and start on January 1, 2015.

SKODA: Coming up trumps for winter motoring

Get a £25 winter health check from Vindis Skoda

For just £25, Skoda retailers up and down the country are offering an exclusive seven-point vehicle check covering the vital aspects for winter safety and ensuring these statistics stay low.

As part of the offer, which is available until March, drivers opting for the Skoda Winter Health Check will also receive a free snow shovel or sledge to ensure drivers are prepared should it snow this winter.

Borough beaten at Lynn reserves

HAVERHILL Borough saw a 1-0 half-time lead slip away as they suffered a 2-1 defeat at King's Lynn reserves in the Thurlow Nunn League, First Division.

Borough skipper Ross Elkins received an award before the game kicked off to mark his 100th appearance for the club.

And he would have been delighted to see his side take an early lead thanks to a defensive error by the hosts.

King's Lynn right back Rob Palmer failed to pick out his goalkeeper Luke Pearson with a defensive header, and as the ball rolled towards the goal, Borough winger Ryan Kent nipped in to score and make it 1-0.

At the other end, Borough centre-back Errol Durell was forced into action, making a fine last-ditch tackle to prevent Lynn's Liam Fryatt from running through on goal.

The hosts continued to pile on the pressure, and striker Jack Frohawk forced Borough keeper Charlie Turner to make a good save. Harry Halls also played his part in preserving Borough's lead, hacking the parried shot off the line and away from danger.

Before the half-time interval, Ben Coe forced Turner into another good save, the stopper flinging himself to his left and tipping a fierce shot around the post for a corner.

Visitors Borough stepped things up at the start of the second half and they made a bright start.

Owen Longley broke down the right wing and crossed for Lee Salmons, whose shot was blocked by a defender.

But after 58 minutes the hosts drew level when Frohawk brushed Durell off the ball and then surged into the penalty area,

Jenkinson does job for Wratting

GEORGE Jenkinson hit a hat-trick to book West Wratting under-15s' place in the final of the Cambridge & District League Cup.

Jenkinson's treble came in a 6-3 triumph at home to St Ives Rangers White Sox in their semi-final.

Daniel Cordwell's double and Toby Fellows' goal completed the scoring for Wratting as they held off a second-half comeback from Rangers. Meanwhile, in Division 15C, Liam Butt scored twice as Haverhill Rovers triumphed by the odd goal in seven over Milton.

Brandon McKay and Aaron Wiseman were also on target for Rovers as they emerged 4-3 winners.

firing past Turner's left hand with a well-placed shot.

Turner then did well to react quickly and dive down to his right to deny Palmer as the score remained 1-1.

But Borough's task of getting anything out of the game became much harder when right back Ash Drew was sent off for a second bookable offence.

And from the resulting free kick, the home side exacted further punishment as Alan Burch headed past Turner to make it 2-1.

Borough were unable to get back into the game and the hosts held on to take all three points.

In the Premier Division, Haverhill Rovers did not have a fixture last weekend but they are back in action this weekend, at home to defending champions Hadleigh United.

Disappointment in Plate

HAVERHILL went down 28-3 at home to Harwich in the Suffolk Plate final.

With a number of key players missing due to work, family commitments or injury it was always going to be a tough day against a team on good form in their league.

And inside five minutes, Ricky Brown was sin-binned for not releasing the tackled player and Harwich led 6-0.

On 20 minutes, a good scrum by Harwich was quickly moved along the line and put over in the corner to extend their lead.

Haverhill's commitment to keeping going was shown when Kieron McDonagh tried to take to the field again with what proved to be a broken collar bone, but on the stroke of half time Harwich scored a converted try for an 18-0 advantage at the turn.

Kieran Ewens' penalty got Haverhill on the board, but the visitors replied with a penalty and finished the job with five minutes remaining, driving over a scrum for the final try.
